

Rex

October 23, 2023

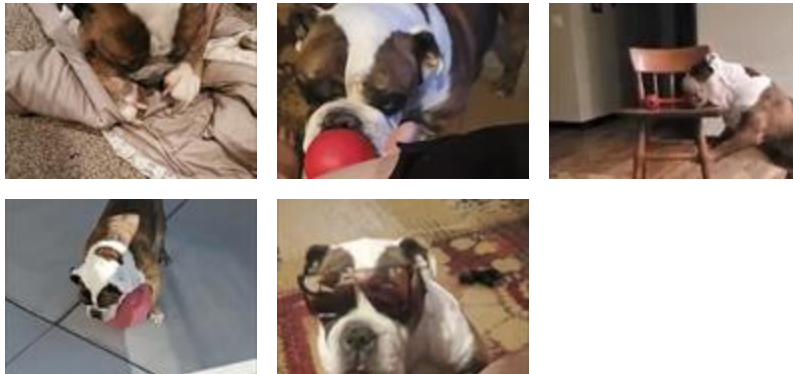

Obituary: Our pal, best friend and beloved Dog Rex moved to the spirit realm at 8:40 pm. Monday October 23, 2023. His welcoming wags, slobbery kisses, his massive run at you hugs that sometimes ended in tackles. His tail tuck run (fast as the wind and don't get in the way cause he stops for nothing) Jumping for frisbees , small tires, tire swings, sticks, tether balls, balloons, bubbles, even jumping up to look you in the face. Closing the door with his paw and slamming it attitude when reminded. Chasing lights including lots of morning entertainment with the storm doors. Soccer that rendered a few injuries to us humans. And keep away with any ball or toy until he was ignored then setting the toy and his head next to or on them and watching with an attention getting growl to touch the toy, once they did keep away was on again. Sometimes we were quick enough to get in a throw, Rex retrieved quickly and wanted to engage in keep away again or endless tug-of-wars never to give up, he was always in for the win. (I don't remember a tug-o-war loss maybe a draw or two and a few broken straps with his favorite playmate Misty). He was a friend to all. Honoring the best ways to be a friend at any given time to any given person. Whether kisses or hugs, being your walking or 4 wheeler companion, your slobbery alarm clock, sleeping buddy, humoring us by doing tricks for his treats, playing anything and everything (Run, jump, play hard his favorite in earlier years). Sitting quietly by our sides or at our feet when we were sad lonely or sick. Laying his head in our laps. Loving his pets, ear and belly rubs. Always sitting loyally and quietly near by waiting for any chance to share or receive a little love. Thank you Rex for your loyal devoted companion/friendship. We love you and are happy you are free of a worn out body, and can be that fun full of life dog. We love and miss you immensely.

“ Rest easy old man, rexy poo, sexy rexy, Rex. Eat lots of apples oranges watermelon etc and play with tons of balls plus keep dad company. You have been a great companion to all of us. We have enjoyed you in our family the past 11 years or so. You would of been 15 on Jan 1st 2024.... Thanks for sticking it out as long as possible to spread out the grieving. We all will always love you! Until we meet again!
